

- Almost Every day I go for a walk after 17:30 or when all the lectures are complete.
- So today as an assignment have been given to me, I was searching for something that will look unique.
- And I can upload the photograph of that thing as an assignment.
- So here you can see the above picture of trees and watching nature and beauty of nature always make everyone's mind calm.
- And the thing that caught my attention is, that how these trees are standing together but if you look closer in this picture you can see that these trees are not touching each other and this looks like a natural outline around all these trees.
